

Career Development and Progression Intro Video Transcript

Sometimes our career paths don't look the way we imagined them at points. I found that I was searching for ways to develop in my career and by seeing what other opportunities were available within my job, but also what other jobs are out there. Some of us even want to change our career entirely. I found it really useful to know how to have these conversations about development and progression with my employer, learn how to reflect on my progress and reach out to high support network.
